What Is Lifetime's It's Beginning To Look A Lot Like Murder About?

According to the Lifetime synopsis, business owner Diana Hart (Prosperi) is working extra during her busiest season. However, everything stops when she learns she inherited a house from her beloved late aunt.

She goes to check it out, and Matt (Burns) her former boyfriend and the estate attorney has an idea. He thinks she should stick around and settle all the details. He also wants to find a way to get back together with Diane, but is she interested?

Now that she is staying on, Diane starts to dig up clues that indicate her aunt may not have had a natural death. She may have been murdered!

Moreover, all clues lead to her ex-boyfriend. Will she solve this murder and survive Christmas?
